Veteran Housing Programs

Oregon Veterans Home Loans

Since 1946, the Oregon Department of Veterans' Affairs (ODVA) has helped more than 334,000 veterans realize their dreams of owning a home, loaning over $7.5 billion to veterans. ODVA offers a state veterans' home loan that is an additional and distinctively separate benefit from the Federal VA Home Loan Guaranty Program. The current maximum loan amount is $417,000 for a single family, owner occupied residence and veterans are now eligible to use the loan as a lifetime benefit. The program is designed specifically to provide veterans the lowest interest rate possible and is secured through special federal bonding only available to state home loan programs. ODVA takes pride in achieving consistent high levels of customer satisfaction, and makes every attempt to be flexible and provide an easy application process. A home loan program for honorably discharged veterans with below market interest rates. The eligibility for the program expires 30 years after discharge from the U.S. Armed Forces. ODVA also offers home improvement loans. Toll free information number 1-800-828-8801. Learn more about Oregon Veterans Home Loans at <http://www.oregon.gov/ODVA/HOMELOANS/Pages/index.aspx>.

Adaptive Assistance: Housing

For service members and veterans with qualifying service-connected disabilities, the federal VA offers several grant programs to help with the cost of purchasing or constructing an adapted home, or modifying an existing residence with special features to accommodate a disability. These grant programs include the Specially Adapted Housing

(SAH) grant, the Special Housing Adaptation (SHA) grant, and the Home Improvements and Structural Alterations (HISA) grant.

Special Housing Adaptation (SHA) Grant -- Under the SHA grant program, the VA may approve a grant for the actual cost for adaptations to a veteran's residence — either their own home or that of a family member with whom they reside — determined by the VA to be reasonably necessary to promote ease and freedom of movement throughout the house. These include, but are not limited to, the installation of covered porches, entry ramps and walkways, security devices, sliding doors, handrails, and grab bars. The grant may also be applied to new home purchases: either toward acquiring a residence that has already been adapted with special features for the veteran's disability, or to modifying a home which the veteran or hosting family member intends to buy.

Specially Adapted Housing (SAH) Grant -- SAH grants provide toward the cost of building, buying, or remodeling adapted homes, or paying indebtedness on homes previously acquired. Additionally, SAH grants can be used to purchase land on which specially-adapted housing is to be built. For more information refer to Federal VA: SHA and SAH Grants

Specially Adapted Housing Assistive Technology (SAHAT) Grant Program -- This federal VA program awards grants to persons or entities to encourage the development of specially-adapted assistive technologies that enhance a disabled veteran's ability to live independently, such as voice-recognition and voice-command operations, living environment controls, and adaptive feeding equipment.

For more information: Federal VA: Specially Adapted Housing Assistive Technology \(SAHAT\) Grant Program

Supplemental Financing Loan Guaranty

Veterans who have available loan guarantee entitlement may also obtain a guaranteed loan or possibly a direct loan from the federal VA to supplement the grants to acquire a specially-adapted home. For more information refer to Federal VA: Home Loans

Home Improvements and Structural Alterations (HISA) -- This federal VA program provides funding for disabled veterans to make home improvements necessary for the continuation of treatment or for disability access to the home, and essential lavatory and sanitary facilities. Disabled veterans may be eligible for HISA when it is determined medically necessary or appropriate for the effective and economical treatment of the service-connected disability. For more information refer to Federal VA: Home Improvements and Structural Alterations\(HISA\).

Oregon Veterans Homes

Care at the Oregon Veteran's Homes is an earned benefit available to veterans, their spouses and parents who had a child die while serving in the U.S. Armed Forces. To be eligible for this benefit, qualifying veterans must have served as defined by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (Federal VA) and received an honorable discharge from their branch of service.

A VA physician's certification that nursing home care is needed due to a service connected disability may qualify a veterans to be eligible to have some or all of the cost of care at the Veterans' Home covered by the VA. Typically veterans who have a 70 percent or greater service-connected disability and are in need of skilled nursing care due to their disability may be eligible to have their cost of care covered by the VA. The Homes are Medicare and Medicaid Certified. Veterans living at the Home may be eligible for additional federal benefits which can help them supplement their cost of care. The Admissions Liaison at the Oregon Veterans' Home is able to assist veterans and their families in obtaining additional federal benefits.

Admissions Assistance - The Oregon Department of Veterans Affairs has Admission Liaisons to assist veterans and their families with questions about care and the admissions process at the two homes. Additional information on what the homes offer can be found at:

Oregon Property Tax Exemption

If you are a disabled veteran, you may be entitled to exempt some of your homestead property's assessed value from your property taxes. To qualify, veterans must be certified by the VA or any branch of the Armed Forces as having disabilities of 40 percent or more or be certified each year by a licensed physician as being 40 percent or more disabled. Active duty service members, including National Guard and Reserve members, may also qualify for a residential property tax exemption. Property tax exemptions also apply to qualifying surviving spouses of veterans. For more information contact your county assessor or visit the Oregon Department of Revenue: Exemptions

Employment Benefits

Direct Professional Licensing for Military Experience

Veterans leave military service with a wealth of transferable skills and professional experiences. Now, thanks to an Oregon law passed in 2012, you may be able to attain official accreditation for those skills in the civilian workforce. House Bill 4063, designed to quickly get service members back to work after serving in the military, requires certain professional licensing agencies and boards in Oregon to accept military training or experience as an allowable substitution for traditional civilian education or experience required for licensure, certification or registration. That means veterans in certain career fields will not need to go back to school for training that they have already received in the military, saving time and money. Certain professions specified in the bill may have special requirements that must be met in addition to military education or experience. For more information refer to House Bill 4063 of the 2012 Legislative Session.

Employment Opportunities for Homeless Veterans

The Homeless Veteran Supported Employment Program (HVSEP) provides vocational assistance, job development and placement, and ongoing supports to improve employment outcomes among homeless Veterans and Veterans at-risk of homelessness. Formerly homeless Veterans who have been trained as Vocational Rehabilitation Specialists (VRSs) provide these services.

VA's Compensated Work Therapy (CWT) Program is a national vocational program comprised of three unique programs which assist homeless Veterans in returning to competitive employment: Sheltered Workshop, Transitional Work, and Supported Employment. Veterans in CWT are paid at least the federal or state minimum wage, whichever is higher.

VA's National Cemetery Administration and Veterans Health Administration have also formed partnerships at national cemeteries, where formerly homeless Veterans from the CWT program have received work opportunities.

The Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VR&E) Program assists Veterans with service-connected disabilities to prepare for, find, and keep suitable jobs. Services that may be provided include: Comprehensive rehabilitation evaluation to determine abilities, skills, and interests for employment; employment services; assistance finding and keeping a job; and On the Job Training (OJT), apprenticeship, and non-paid work experiences. For more information refer to Federal VA: Homeless Veterans Employment

Oregon disabled Veterans and Veterans Employment Representatives

Veterans can avail themselves of a number of programs at the state and federal level for assistance with finding employment in the civilian sector.

Priority of Service: Through WorkSource Oregon, veterans and spouses of veterans may qualify for Priority of Service in employment and training services. This includes priority referrals to jobs and other services over non-veteran applicants with the same qualifications.

Disabled Veterans' Outreach Program (DVOPs): Specialists (DVOPs) and Local Veterans Employment Representatives (LVERs) assist veterans in applying for job in federal, state, and local government as well as the private sector. DVOPs and LVERs have offices to serve all veterans in more than 20 Oregon cities.

For more information refer to Oregon Employment Department: Veterans Services

Veterans Day Off

In the eyes of the State of Oregon, you, as a military veteran, are entitled to the day off on Veterans Day. According to Senate Bill 1, passed during the Oregon Legislature's 2013 Regular Session, employers are required to offer eligible veteran employees paid or unpaid time off from work on November 11 of each year in recognition of their national service.

By law, you must give notice and proof-of-service documentation, such as a DD 214, to your employer at least 21 days in advance of Veterans Day. Employers must respond to time-off requests at least 14 days prior to the holiday, confirming explicitly if time off will be granted and whether it will be paid or unpaid. Whether the time off is paid or unpaid is at the discretion of the employer.

Employers may deny the eligible veteran's request only if the employer can demonstrate that granting the request would cause a significant economic or operational disruption or an undue hardship to the company. In those circumstances, the employer must then allow the eligible veteran a single day off before the following Veterans Day to honor the holiday. That day off must be in addition to any other time off to which the employee would otherwise be entitled.

For more information refer to Senate Bill 1 from the Oregon Legislature's 2013 RegularSession

Veterans Preference

Veterans and disabled veterans receive preference when applying for federal, state, county, and local government jobs in Oregon.

Oregon Public Sector Veterans' Preference

Thanks to an Oregon law first passed by the Legislature in 1977, public employers must grant preference to a veteran or disabled veteran who applies for a vacant civil service position — whether as a new hire or as a promotion from within — at any state, county or local government agency. To receive preference, you must successfully clear an initial application screening, satisfy any applicable exam or civil service test, and meet the minimum and any special qualifications for the job. Veterans' Preference does not compel a public employer to hire a veteran or disabled veteran based solely on their veteran status; however, it does require that an eligible veteran or disabled veteran be appointed when their application assessment, combined with applicable veterans' preference points, is equal to or higher than that of a non-veteran. For more information refer to Oregon Veterans' Preference. Veterans' Preference is granted in accordance with Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS) 408.225, 408.230, and 408.235; Oregon Administrative Rules (OAR) 105-040-0010 and 105-040-0015. You can read the Veteran Preference OARs here.

Federal Veterans' Preference

Veterans who meet certain qualifications receive preference over other applicants when applying for federal government jobs in both the competitive and excepted service. Detailed in Title 5 of the United States Code, veterans' preference can be confusing. Eligibility is based on length and dates of active duty service, a service-connected disability, or receipt of a campaign badge or Purple Heart. Not all active duty service may qualify for veterans' preference. Unlike Oregon state Veterans' Preference, which only has two preference categories, federal employment allows for THREE types of eligible preferences: disabled veterans (10-point preference), non-disabled veterans (five-point preference) and sole survivorship (zero-point preference). To be eligible for veterans' preference by federal employers, you must have been discharged or released under honorable conditions. For more information refer to Department of Labor's Veterans' Preference Advisor.

Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (VR&E) Program

This federal VA program provides education and job training to aid your transition back into the civilian workforce. It applies to veterans in general, but also has specific provisions for disabled veterans and their family members. Find out more at Federal VA: Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment Services.

Education Assistance Benefits

Tillman Military Scholars Program

The Pat Tillman Foundation's Tillman Military Scholars program is another great resource for removing financial barriers to higher education. Each year, this program awards a select number of scholarships to veterans across the country to cover not only direct study-related expenses such as tuition and fees, but also other needs, including housing and child care. Both veterans and their spouses are eligible to apply. For more information: contact your campus veteran services office or visit Tillman Military Scholarship.

Montgomery GI Bill (MGIB)

For qualified veterans, the Montgomery GI Bill (MGIB) can be a valuable resource for reducing the cost of education and training programs. This benefit can be used to pay for up to 36 months of costs for many different programs including:

- College degrees (undergraduate and graduate)
- Technical or Vocational Training
- Distance Learning or Correspondence Courses
- Apprenticeships/Job Training
- Flight Training
- Licensing and Certification Tests
- Entrepreneurship Training
- Certain Entrance Examinations

Generally, these benefits must be accessed within 10 years of your separation from active duty. Unlike the Post-9/11 GI Bill, the Montgomery GI Bill is not transferable to veterans' family members. You may be eligible for this benefit if you have an honorable discharge and you have a high school diploma or GED, and if the nature of your service meets all of the requirements of one of four VA qualification categories. For more information refer to Federal VA: Montgomery GI Bill \(MGIB\) Benefits.

Tuition Assistance Top Up

Top-up allows the federal VA to reimburse you for all or a portion of the charges for your college courses that are not covered under certain military education programs. The amount of this benefit can be equal to the difference between the total cost of a college course and the amount of Tuition Assistance (TA) that is paid by the military for the course. To be eligible for the Top-up benefit, you must be approved for federal TA by a military department and be eligible for either Montgomery GI Bill (MGIB) – Active Duty benefits or the Post-9/11 GI Bill. For more information refer to Federal VA: Tuition Assistance Top Up.

Yellow Ribbon GI Education Enhancement Program

This federal program provides additional funds toward your education expenses at a number of participating colleges and universities nationwide. It is meant to fill the payment gap in situations where the maximum amount awarded by your Post 9/11 GI Bill falls short of the total cost of attendance at your school. Institutions voluntarily enter into a Yellow Ribbon Agreement with VA and choose the amount of tuition and fees that will be contributed. VA matches that amount and issues payments directly to the institution, with no additional charge to your GI Bill entitlement. Contact your institution to see if they participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program. To access this benefit, you must:

- Be entitled to the maximum benefit rate of the Post 9/11 GI Bill.
- Not be on active duty or a spouse using transferred entitlement.
- Dependent transferees may be eligible in certain circumstances.
- Be attending an institution participating in the Yellow Ribbon Program.
- Your school must certify your enrollment to the VA.
- Your school must have not offered Yellow Ribbon to more than the maximum number of individuals, as stated in their participation agreement.

For more information refer to Federal VA: Yellow Ribbon Program.

Reserve Educational Assistance Program (REAP)

REAP provides educational assistance to members of the Reserve components called to active duty in response to a war or national emergency declared by the president or Congress. Eligible veterans must be a member of a Ready Reserve component (Selected Reserve, Individual Ready Reserve, or Inactive National Guard) to pay into the “buy-up” program. National Guard members are eligible if they were serving under Title 32 orders for 90 consecutive days as authorized by the president or secretary of defense for a national emergency and that was supported by federal funds.

Noteworthy: The Post-9/11 GI Bill in many ways has replaced REAP because it also provides educational assistance benefits for Reserve and National Guard members called to active duty on or after September 11, 2001, and in many cases provides a greater benefit than REAP. For more information refer to Federal VA: Reserve Educational Assistance Program \(REAP\).

College Credit for Military Training

You can receive college credit for certain types of education and training you received in the military, saving you money and time as you pursue your education goals. All universities and local community colleges throughout Oregon accept guidance from the American Council on Education (ACE), which provides recommendations on how to award academic credit for military training. To claim college credit for military training, request a transcript from your military service branch and submit it to your local higher learning institution. Request a transcript: Veterans of the Army, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, and Navy can access their Joint Services Transcript (JST) online by visiting the JST website. Air Force veterans should contact the Community College of the Air Force \(CCAF\) to receive transcripts.

Nonresident Veteran In-State Tuition

Attending college in Oregon is now more affordable for some recently-relocated veterans thanks to an Oregon law eliminating out-of-state education costs. Oregon House Bill 2158, signed into law in the summer of 2013, states that if you are a veteran of the armed forces pursuing undergraduate studies at a public institution in Oregon, you will pay tuition rates and fees no greater than the Oregon resident rate — even if you are not yet considered a permanent resident of the state. These savings also apply to veterans’ dependents using transferred benefits, as well as orphans of veterans who died on active duty. Note: Certain online-only programs may be excluded from this program. This benefit does not apply to graduate students or active duty military members or their dependents.

For Graduate Students -- Similar to the above program, HB 4021, signed into law in the spring of 2014, reduces out-of-state tuition costs for nonresident veterans attending graduate school in Oregon. Under this program, qualified student-veterans will have their nonresident tuition reduced after all other VA benefits and Gift Aid (grants and fee remissions) have been deducted. Loans received through financial aid do not fall into this category. For more information: contact the veterans' service office or financial aid office at your local institution.

Voyager Aid Program for Oregon National Guard and Reserve

Voyager is a tuition benefit that is available to Oregon veterans who served as members of the National Guard or Reserves in an active duty capacity in a combat zone on or after September 11, 2001. Under this program, eligible student veterans will be awarded a fee remission for no more than the difference between campus tuition and mandatory fees and expected military tuition benefits. This program is meant to work in conjunction with other educational aid programs; thus, you are still responsible for obtaining federal military tuition benefits. If you are not eligible for federal tuition benefits, you must demonstrate proof of ineligibility.

Voyager is a "last dollar award," meaning it works to ensure that you do not pay tuition costs if your other federal military education benefits fall short. The typical maximum length of the award is four years for undergraduate programs (a fifth year may be approved under certain programs). This benefit is only available to those seeking their initial bachelor's degree, and it carries a maximum credit limit of 15 course credits beyond the minimum needed for degree completion. The Voyager Tuition Assistance Program does not cover E-Campus or Distance courses. This benefit is not transferable to a veteran's spouse or dependents. For more information: Contact your campus financial services office.

Statewide Apprenticeships (BOLI)

Are you a veteran seeking training in the construction, industrial or manufacturing trades? If so, you may be able to use your veterans' educational benefits for apprenticeship programs such as Oregon Apprenticeship Opportunities Statewide. This program, offered through the Oregon Bureau of Labor and Industries (BOLI) in partnership with Oregon businesses and local apprenticeship committees, offers career opportunities through paid on-the-job training and education, with a focus on building and industrial career fields. If an existing apprenticeship program does not have an approved veteran's program in place, you can coordinate the establishment of a new training program by communicating with an employer and the Apprenticeship and Training Division. For more information refer to Oregon Bureau of Labor and Industries \(BOLI\): Apprenticeship and Training Division.

Survivors' and Dependents' Education Assistance Program (DEA)

This program offers education and training opportunities to eligible dependents of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled due to a service-related condition or of veterans who died while on active duty or as a result of a service-related condition. Benefits may be used for degree and certificate programs, apprenticeship, and on-the-job training. If you are a spouse, you may take a correspondence course. Remedial, deficiency, and refresher courses may be approved under certain circumstances. Find more information refer to Federal VA: Survivors' and Dependents' Education Assistance Program \(DEA\).

Veterans Educational Assistance Program (VEAP)

VEAP is available if you elected to make contributions from your military pay to participate in this education benefit program. The government matches your contributions on a 2-for-1 basis. Educational programs for which these benefits may be used include college degree and certificate programs, technical or vocational training, flight training, apprenticeships, and licensing and certification tests, as well as various others. Benefit entitlement is for one to 36 months, depending on the number of monthly contributions. You have 10 years from your release from active duty to use VEAP benefits. If the entitlement is not used after the 10-year period, your portion remaining in the fund will be automatically refunded. If you are currently on active duty and wish to receive VEAP benefits, you must have at least three months of contributions available. For more information refer to Federal VA: Veterans Educational Assistance Program \(VEAP\).

Recreation Benefits

Oregon Hunting and Fishing Licenses

A free lifetime Oregon hunting and angling license to service-connected disabled veterans rated 25% or more. Disabled veterans are also eligible for an Oregon Elk tag at a reduced cost. Active members of the armed forces or veterans who retired from the Armed Forces within 12 months of the date of application, may apply to the Oregon Military Department for reimbursement for the cost of a resident annual hunting and angling license.

Oregon State Parks

Service-connected disabled Veterans get free parking at the 26 state parks that charge a day-use parking fee. They also receive free camping costs in RV sites, tent campsites & standard horse camp sites. You may camp for free in a tent, RV or standard horse camp site for 10 nights at a time at a single state park, or a total of 10 nights in a 30 day period, regardless of the location. If you stay longer than 10 nights at a park, you will pay the standard rate for the extra days.

Members of the military on active duty and on official leave need to pay up front and then get reimbursed.

Other State Veteran Benefits

Permanent Vehicle Registration Fee for Disabled Veterans

One-time registration fee for motor vehicle registration for service-connected disabled veterans in receipt of compensation. Disabled veterans must provide proof that the qualifying disability is connected with service in the U.S. Armed Forces.
